

BEN TOWERS

Auctioneer

Possessing a real estate knowledge and pedigree rivalled by few Ben Towers is the true auction professional. Having worked in the property industry almost all of his career Ben brings a level of confidence and competence to auction day that will ensure the right result.

With Father Tom a renowned stock and station and wool man, The Towers Family name is synonymous with Real Estate and Auctioneering so it was all but a given that this the business would be in Ben's DNA.

Ben has developed into one of the most recognised auctioneers in his marketplace and has a deep understanding of the auction day preparation and process. These skills give Ben the ability to assist with negotiations on auction day to achieve the very best possible result for all of the stakeholders, whilst always maintaining a competitive yet comfortable atmosphere.

A perfect mix of approachable and assertive, Ben is a valued member of our team as he will be yours.
